Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit innoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Jews and Palestine.

A letter from Dr. Max Nordau, of Paris, containing a strong appeal for the support of the already established Jewish institutions in Palestine, aroused much enthusiasm at yesterday's session of the Federation of American Zionists in Tannersville N. Y. Much interest was also shown in a communication from Prof. Otto Warburg, head of the Palestine commission, which pointed out the political, industrial and agricultural possiblities of Palestine. Particular stress was laid upon the favorable attitude now evinced toward Jewish colonization in Palestine by the Turkish government. The commission recommended the organization of commercial, industrial and agricultural syndicates for the exploiting of the resorces of Palestine.

Dr. H. Pereira Mendas, president of the American branch of the Jewish Territory Association, startled the convention by declaring that the report of the commission, which comes at a critical moment of Zionism, proved that there is no need for any other organization to undertake relief work for Jews as for other activities elsewhere. Palestine must come first, he said, and only when activities are impossible in Palestine need activities or relief work be undertaken elsewhere.

This statement was regarded by the convention as notice of the early dissolution of the territorial movement, which is an offshoot of Zionism, and aims to secure a grant of land for a Jewish autonomous state anywhere in the world where the right to established such a state may be obtained.

Tragedy at Railroad Station.

At the union station at Bristol, Va., yesterday afternoon, John Orr, a mechanic, rushed upon George Jones, a stonecutter, on the depot platform, and fired three shots from a 32-caliber pistol into Jones' body at close range. Jones sank to the platform and blood issued from his mouth as the result of internal hemorrhages. One bullet penetrated his head, entering behind the right ear, while the two other shots entered his back, ranging upward through his lungs and coming out through his breast. The shooting was due to the alleged intimacy of Jones with Orr's wife, Orr alleging that Jones and Mrs. Orr were going away together on a trip. Before the shooting occurred Mrs. Orr had entered a coach of an eastbound train on the Norfolk and Western Railway. The train was ready to start and Jones was in the act of getting aboard when he was shot. As he fell, Jones dropped his railroad ticket on the platform, and it was for Rural Retreat, Va., the same place, it is supposed, Mrs. Orr was going. Orr ran after the shooting, but was arrested. He said he shot Jones because the latter had ruined his home. Jones was still alive early last night, but cannot recover. He gave out as his dying statement a denial of the charge of intimacy with Mrs. Orr, but said that Orr had attacked him once before during the day. After the shooting, which was witnessed by Orr's wife, she left the train, abandoning her contemplated trip.

Miners' Riot.

Investigation by the authorities of the miners' riot at Bradley Ohio, yesterday shows that one man is dead, two are fatally injured, while seven others are seriously wounded as a result of the encounter. At noon Sunday 20 guards employed at Plum Run marched into Bradley and engaged in drinking at one of the company houses. Subsequently five of them came out and fired their guns in the air. The guard stationed across the ravine imagined that miners were attacking the guards and fired upon the strikers, whereupon, as a matter of defense, the strikers retaliated.

The firing continued for nearly three hours. All but two houses in the settlement were struck with bullets from the guards' winchesters and the only store not controlled by the coal company was almost shot in pieces. The wives and children of the strikers fled from their homes to the cellar and the unarmed miners took refuge behind the building. The guards then crossed the ravine and attacked the strikers with fearful results.

Farmers in the vicinity of Bradley appealed to Sheriff Vorhees yesterday for protection against the guards, claiming that their stock is shot down in the fields and other depredations committed by the non-residents.

The situation at Dillonville is worse than at any time since the strike was inaugurated.

Girl Accuses Her Uncle.

Suffering from serious wounds said to have been inflicted by her uncle, May Popkins, a fourteen-year-old white girl, of 1845 Eighth street northwest, Washington, was taken to a hospital late yesterday afternoon, and physicians there state that she will probably die. The girl's skull is fractured in three places as the result of blows struck with a hammer, her jugular vein was cut, as were also the arteries of her wrist, and her body contains numerous injuries inflicted with a razor. John Popkins, 24 years old, the uncle, said by the police to be responsible for the girl's condition, is also at the hospital in a critical condition from self inflicted injuries. He is being closely guarded. The screams of the girl attracted the attention of neighbors, and when Popkins was placed under arrest he was covered with blood and still flourished the razor. The girl was unconscious. The parents of the girl reside in Tenleytown, but recently she had been staying with her aunt, where her uncle also boarded. The deed, the police allege, was prompted by insane jealousy. Popkins for some time, it is stated, has been in love with his young niece, and his attentions have been marked since they have been residing in the same house.

The New Union Station.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad expects to run its first trains into the new Union Station in Washington by the middle of next month. The Pennsylvania Railroad will not enter the station until sometime next spring. The station is by no means completed, and the accomodations for the ticket sellers and other employes of passenger department have not yet begun to assume the superb condition which is contemplated when the depot shall have been completed. The fact that the Baltimore and Ohio will run its trains into the new station so much ahead of the time generally agreed upon is due largely to the present difficulty encountered by the company's trains entering the old station now in use, and it has been decided by the engineer building the new station that it will be far easier to shift the tracks and have the trains come in at the new station than to longer suffer the inconvenience of the present tracks.

Precautions Against Lockjaw.

In anticipation of the flood of casualties that are likely to result from the celebration of the Fourth of July, the Board of Health of New York is giving out information about and distributing anti-toxin in an attempt to prevent fatalities from lockjaw. The following bulletin is given out: "Tetanus, or lockjaw, has been a frequent cause of death on Fourth of July celebrations. It is caused by tetanus germs, which exist either on the hands or in the earth used to make blank cartridges and firecrackers. When these pieces of firecrackers or cartridges have been driven deeply into the flesh, in all cases a physician should be promptly called so that the wound may be promptly cleaned and opened. As a precaution tetanus anti toxin should be administered in all such cases. It does no harm and may prevent death from lockjaw."

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 3, 1906.

TOMORROW will be celebrated throughout the broad domain of the United States as Independence Day, the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. This bold act of our forefathers who took their lives in their own hands by defying the great British nation, naturally appeals to each generation, and every Fourth of July should animate the souls of all patriots. The Declaration of Independence was but the initial act, a throwing down of the gauntlet before George III., as a long and bloody war followed in which the Continental army was often reduced to dire extremities. Its brave leaders and earnest soldiers, however, with bulldog tenacity, never threw up the sponge to the lion, but for seven long years persisted in a battle for the right until Britannia was at last made to realize that she had brought forth a hardy offspring sufficiently able to exist apart from her apron strings. The mother country for a long time imagined that her headstrong progeny would sooner or later realize that it had made a mistake and again seek shelter in the old homestead. But such was not the case, the infant republic steadily grew in strength and national importance until it is a recognized world powers, a giant with its head pillowed in perpetual snow, its feet in the tropics and its arms stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

THE republican congressional campaign committee aided by the national committee, of which Postmaster General Cortelyou is still chairman, is preparing for a desperate fight this fall to prevent the democrats from electing a majority of the House of Representatives of the Sixtieth Congress. The President is keenly anxious that he should not have to deal with a democratic House in the last years of his administration, notwithstanding the fact that much of the important legislation enacted at the session that closed on Saturday received more cordial support from the democrats than from the republicans and might not have been placed on the statute books but for this fact. But the President wants to be "regular," and therefore, he has insisted that nothing shall be left undone in this fall's campaign likely to insure republican success in the Congressional elections. The leaders of the House discovered how anxious the President was on this score sometime ago, and they used it skillfully in the closing weeks of the session to induce the President to permit things to be done and left undone as they deemed best. After he has had a few weeks' complete rest at Oyster Bay, the President, it is understood, will give his personal attention to the Congressional campaign and will see to it that all the spellbinders of the administration do their duty on the stump in all districts where they are badly needed—and that is in many.

SENATOR LODGE, yesterday appeared before the grand jury of Suffolk county, Mass., in an investigation into campaign contributions by District Attorney Moran. Upon departing he said that he could not disclose the nature of the questions asked him. He could say, however, that the subject seemed to him to be "quite unimportant" and one upon which he could give no information. He said it was his understanding that the district attorney's purpose was to secure the testimony of the members of the republican State committee concerning certain campaign contributions. When District Attorney Moran learned that Mr. Lodge had expressed the opinion that the matter was unimportant, he said with considerable heat: "If perjury is unimportant then the subject matter of this investigation is unimportant." Mr. Moran's remark was a pointed rebuke to Senator Lodge, but the average republican politician seems to regard as "unimportant" the making of contributions to buy elections and then perjuring himself afterward.

A TORPEDO shell loaded with 150 pounds of dunnite was exploded at the Sandy Hook proving grounds June 22, in the presence of members of the army board of ordnance and fortification, with the result that a steel caisson, representing a section of the under water body of a modern battleship, was sunk. This test may revolutionize naval construction, as radical changes in the plans of battleships will be necessary to enable them to withstand the force of this new explosive. The torpedo was placed at a depth of fifteen feet and fifteen feet distant from the caisson. It was twelve inches in diameter and six feet in length, so hung that its nose pointed downward at an angle of forty-five degrees, to simulate the path of a shell fired from the mouth of a mortar or cannon. After this experiment it will be seen that the democrats in Congress acted wisely in insisting upon a postponement of construction of a ten million dollar battleship.

IOWA has almost certainly gone for Cummins and rariff reduction in spite of every effort of the administration to support Perkins, the "stand-pat" candidate. The State committee is controlled by Perkins men, and it is rumored that it will make up a preliminary roll giving Perkins the organization of the convention; but as the Cummins men claim seventy-two votes to spare, they will probably get what belongs to them. Candidates for Congress are afraid of party splits that would defeat them, and peace and harmony will probably be forced upon the extremists. The republican convention in 1908 will evade or trifle with the demand for tariff reform, and democracy will have its path to success opened before it.

THIRTEEN Philadelphia ice manufacturers upon whom warrants were served last week, charging them with conspiracy to raise the price of ice, waived a hearing yesterday and were held in $1,500 bail each to answer in court. The most sensational fact developed at the hearing was that the Philadelphia Ice Exchange for the past four years has been arbitrarily fixing the price of ice to consumers in the city, and that any member who defied the edict of the exchange would have been held accountable to a despotic committee of arbitration. The only wonder now is that Congress did not enact anti-trust legislation many years ago.

THE Navy Department is anxious to withraw several hundred marines from the Isthmus. One large contingent was sent to the isthmus aboard the cruiser Colombia to safeguard canal interests in case of election troubles." The elections having been quiet and the need of the extra forces having ended, orders will soon be issued for the return of the marines to a colored inmate. What this country had to do with the Panama elections only the administration can tell—but Mr. Roosevelt and his advisors are given to "buttin-in."

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
Washington, July 3.

Announcement was made at the State Department today of several changes in the staff. Dr. John Buck, formerly one of the confidential clerks, has been appointed chief of the index bureau, to fill the vacancy created some months ago by the appointment of Pendleton King to a consulate. Secretary Root desires to reorganize the index bureau, which is now managed on the most archaic system, in much the same way that he reorganized the method of keeping records in the War Department. About fifty promotions of clerks have been made. The secretary of the new Norwegian legation will be Marshall Langhorne, of Virginia. Mr. Langhorne was formerly Vice-Consul under former Consul McQuade at Canton, but following a disagreement with his chief was sent to Dalny, being unable to reach that post on account of the war. Later he went to Santo Domingo and acquitted himself well as charge d'affaires during the absence of Minister Dawson. Recently he has been on leave.

It is officially announced here that, in anticipation of possible trouble in Santo Domingo owing to the failure of the U. S. Senate to ratify the fiscal treaty with that country, the American naval forces in those waters will be increased. The cruiser Columbia, now at Colon, will leave shortly for Guantanamo, and after taking on coal and supplies there, will proceed to Santo Domingo. Other vessels may be added. The purpose of this proposed demonstration is to discourage further attempts by the Morales and Jiminez forces to overthrow the present Caceras government and thus disturb the fiscal arrangement now existing between Santo Domingo and the United States.

James S. Harlan, of Chicago, is to be, it is stated, the new chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission. He will succeed Judge Martin A. Knapp, and will be the fourth chairman of the commission since its organization.

Francis C. Meyer, thirteen years old, died at his home, 289 Third avenue, Jersey City, yesterday, of tetanus, caused by being shot in the hand with a blank cartridge, while playing with a revolver. Lockjaw developed in three hours.

The average condition of cotton on June 25 was 83.3 as compared with 84.6 on May 25, 1906; 77 on June 25, 1905; 88 at the corresponding date in 1904 and a ten year average of 84.1.

Consul J. B. Jackson, who was sent out to Syria on a commercial mission by the United States, writes from Antioch, the cradle of the Christian faith, that its about the cheapest place to live he ever struck. Breathing in the Biblical atmosphere, he also rejoices that Antioch produces a blessed quality of soap containing pure olive oil, and that this is sent to the furthermost parts of Turkey and the land of Egypt.

The War Department received an official dispatch today from San Francisco stating that all U. S. troops were today withdrawn from the city, excepting a small guard for the mint and the army stores This marks the final "evacuation" of federal troops which have been continuously on duty in San Francisco since the earthquake and conflagration of April 18th.

The labor conflict in France still continues to present a serious aspect, according to consular reports received by this government. With the workmen declaring that they are determined to struggle until the employers capitulate, and the employers, apparently equally determined, stating that they will make no concessions, some of the French industries are very much demoralized. The present agitation for shorter hours and increased wages is said to have furthered the tendency toward concentration of business to the large firms. Small firms have disappeared rapidly in France during the last ten years, being unable to withstand the labor agitation, it is reported.

Strike of Cablemen.

Philadelphia, July 3.—Demands for increased wages and a shorter work day being refused them, has caused cablemen employed by the Bell Telephone Company in this State, Delaware and New Jersey to go on a strike. About one hundred of the men who stopped work in this city, demand $4.50 and an eight hour day, instead of $4 ,and nine hour day as they have had hitherto.

Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, of Pittsburg, whose husband is suing her for divorce, declares that letters offered as evidence against her are forgeries. In the divorce proceedings Mrs. Hartje's two coachmen, one colored, are named as co-respondents.

The Duke of Manchester gave a luncheon yesterday at Blenheim House to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who afterward visited Oxford in the Duke of Manchester's motor car, and thence went to London, accompanied by Ambassador Reid and Mrs. Reid, to a dinner and dance given by Lady Dartmouth.

In the Superior Court in Boston, yesterday, Judge De Courcey sentenced Robert G. Proctor, private secretary of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, to ten months in the house of correction. A new trial had been denied. Proctor was convicted last week of the larceny of $225, which John C. Bestgen, of Quincy, claimed he had given Proctor as a contribution to the republican State campaign fund in 1904.

Public Printer Stillings has started an investigation of the government printing office to ascertain the exact cause of the delay in printing the omnibus public building bill for Congress Saturday. He is also inquiring into the erroneous retention in the sundry civil bill of the item appropriating $8,000,000 for the purchase of land in Washington for executive buildings after both houses had voted not to include it.

Visitors to Washington this summer must cut out of their programme of sight seeing the tour of the White House, for the White House was closed yesterday and will remain barred to all visitors until late in the fall. It appears that very elaborate repairs are necessary, and the visitors who generally throng the White House in the summertime when the President is away will seriously interfere with the large number of workmen who will be employed there all summer.

Two Italians were murdered and one of the murderers is in a critical condition from injuries inflicted by a mob as a result of a brawl in a mining camp a few miles east of Grove City, Pa., Sunday night. At mine No. 2 of the Sharon Coal and Limestone Company, Antonio Messarvia was stabbed to death, and his assailant was terribly beaten by Messarvia's friends. At the Red Row Mine, Michael Zoffila was also stabbed to death. Following the murders a general riot occurred, in which a number of other foreigners were badly cut and beaten. Zoffila's assailant escaped.

In an attempt to exterminate his family, Charles Brewer, of Lucedale, Miss., last night shot and killed his wife and his mother-in-law, wounded his wife's grandmother and his infant child, and then shot and killed himself. The tragedy was prompted by anger. Brewer's wife left his home a few days ago alleging that he was treating her badly. She went to her mother's home, where Brewer called last night, and entreated her to return to him. He became angry when his wife refused to leave her mother's house, and drawing a revolver, began shooting at the women. When his wife and her mother had been killed, Brewer continued to shoot until he thought every other member of the family was dead, and then fired a bullet into his own temple.

Mr. Livingston's Estimates.

In a statement made for the democratic minority Representative Livingston makes a comparison of the expenditures provided for by this Congress—$880,183,301—with the expenditures of 1898, the first year of President McKinley's administration, when the figures were $528,735,079—a difference of $351,448,222. Commenting on this showing, he says:

"This growth in appropriation sustains the contention that the republican party stands for extravagance in public expenditures in order to use that extravagance as a cloak for their more objectionable purpose of maintaining a high protective tariff to favor the trust combination of manufacturers of the country.

"Much of this extravagance grows out of the practice prevailing with the present administration of appointing commissions to do what Congress ought to do and what congressmen are elected for and paid for, thus delegating the powers constitutionally belonging to Congress to others, who have no particular relations with or responsibilities to the public and do not render an accounting to the tax payers of this country."

To afford an idea of the magnitude of this year's appropriations, Mr. Livingston says:

"Our corn crop of 1899, valued at $828,192,888, could have been paid for with the total appropriations made at this session and a few millions to spare."

Died in the Saddle.

The death of "Wildcat John" Heitt, on his way from Whitacre, Frederick county, to Bloomery, W. Va., Friday night was typical of his life. Stricken with hemorrhage of the brain, Hiett expired in the saddle. Hiett was one of the most noted sportsmen of Virginia, and he had led a strenuous life since boyhood.

On horseback he had hunted through the wilds of western Virginia and West Virginia, and as a slayer of wildcats, mountain lions and other ferocious beasts his fame had spread. It is said that he had killed more wildcats than any man in Virginia, and by reason of this fact he gained the sobriquet of "Wildcat John." His wife died a short time ago. Five sons and two daughters survive him. He was 70 years old.

Virginia News.

Chairman P. T. St. Clair, of the democratic executive committee of the Ninth district of Virginia, has issued a call for a convention to be held in Bristol on August 16 to nominate a candidate for Congress to oppose Congressman Slemp.

Rev. William C. Thurman, who predicted the end of the world in 1878, died at the poor house in Richmond yesterday. After his great prediction failed, he said he had misread Biblical dates and that the end of the world would come in 1917 instead of 1878.

The Winchester and Washington Electric Railway Company was yesterday granted a franchise by the board of supervisors of Frederick county to build an electric trolley car line from Winchester to the county line. The company will continue the road from Winchester to Washington and Baltimore.

Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, at present principal of St. Paul's College, an Episcopal missionary school of Tokio, Japan, was called by cable last night to the rectorate of St. Paul's Church, Norfolk. His father, Rev. Dr. Beverly Tucker, is at present rector of St. Paul's but was recently elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia.

Prof. Noah K. Davis, who for 33 years has filled the chair of moral philysophy in the University of Virginia, has been invited by the Carnegie Foundation to become a beneficiary, and it is understood that he will accept and that his resignation as head of the School of Moral Philosophy will be laid before the visitors at their meeting at the University on Saturday of this week.

Honor Roll in Counties.

The following circular is being sent out by Major Robert W. Hunter, secretary of Virginia Military Records, to every county in the State and it explains itself. Its purpose is to have in each county, as part of the county's permanent official record, a list of all the soldiers from the county who served in the Confederate army:

"Your attention is called to the following provision of the act of assembly of February 9, 1898:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of Virginia, That upon the petition of three reputable soldiers who served in defense of Virginia in the war between the States of 1861-1865, presented to the county or Corporation Court of any county or city in this Commonwealth, praying that the muster roll or rolls of any troop of cavalry or company of artillery or infantry organized, recruited or enlisted, in whole or in part, in said county, during the war between the States, showing that such troop or company was raised for the defense of Virginia, and that such troop or company did actually serve in any of the armies of the Confederate States of America, may be reported among the records of said county or city. * * *

"Section 3 of said act provides that 'a book is to be kept in the clerk's office of the county or city, which record shall have the same value as other records have.'

"Section 4 provides that the cost of the record book and of publishing the notice, and of recording said rolls, shall be paid by the county or city where the petition is filed.'

"It is made the duty of the secretary of Virginia military records to ascertain and report what counties, cities or towns have caused the rolls of their soldiers to be put on record, and where this has not been done, to encourage its accomplishment.

"You are, therefore, earnestly requested to inform me, as soon as possible, whether or not the rolls of the soldiers of your county have been recorded, and if not, that steps be taken at once to have it done. This matter is too important to be longer neglected.

"I will be glad to furnish all the assistance and information in my power.

"ROBERT W. HUNTER,
"Secretary of Virginia Military Records."

Pavloff Hooted Down.

The afternoon sitting of the lower house of the Russian parliament yesterday, which was devoted to the discussion of the law providing for the abolition of the death penalty, broke up in utter disorder when General Pavloff, the military procurator, attempted to address the House in behalf of War Minister Rudiger.

His appearance in the tribune was the signal for an outburst of cries of "Murderer!" "Assassin!" "Organizer of Jewish massacres!" etc., from the members of the Group of Toil, in which the entire left joined. The members of the house pounded their desks, shouted, whistled and resorted to every violent means of showing their displeasure. General Pavloff, after listening to the storm of several minutes, turned to President Mouromtseff, bowed, half smiling, signified his acceptance of the situation and left the tribune.

The Group of Toil decided to make a noisy demonstration every time Pavloff reappears, holding that it is better to drive out one man than have the whole party go out, as they cannot listen to the words of a murderer.

Baltimore Elks.

The reunion of Baltimore Lodge, No. 7, Benevolent and Protecive Order of Elks, at Electric Park yesterday, was a success in many ways. It will take a little while to figure it from a monetary standpoint, through it is a certainty that the balance will be on the proper side of the ledger.

The purpose of the reunion was to raise funds in order to secure for Baltimore the national convention in 1907 of the Elks. Thus far the local Elks have spent nearly $20,000 in the effort to bring the convention there.

Crowds began to assemble at Greater Electric Park yesterday early in the afternoon. Many went to the infield to see the baseball game, in which the nine Elks from Washington were to measure bats with the nine local Elks. The home players went out early and played their game in practice. When the game was played the visitors won by 9 to 7. It was a short contest, finishing in less than five innings.

Mr. Frank Finley, who is well known in this city, played 3rd base and Mr. John Riley, of this city, played left field for the Washington team which won the game.

It is always well to have a box of salve in the house. Sunburn, cuts, bruises, piles and boils yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

THE THAW CASE.

There is no prospect of a speedy trial for Harry K. Thaw. This declaration was made yesterday by District Attorney Jerome, who has returned to take personal charge of the case, in spite of the warning of ex-Judge Olcott, Thaw's counsel, that it would kill his client to remain in the Tombs all summer. Owing to the fact that during the summer there are only two parts of the Court of General Sessions in session in New York, and that the trial would probably last two or three weeks, the district attorney decided not to advance the Thaw case on the calendar. Thaw will hardly be arraigned before October. Anthony Comstock, of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, received yesterday several new letters bearing on the alleged conduct of White. One of the letters was signed by a man who asserts that he was formerly employed in a Twenty-fourth street studio in which White and his friends gave dinners. After reading over this letter yesterday afternoon Mr. Comstock said:

"If the allegations in this letter are true they will tend in a large measure to corroborate the statements about White which Harry Thaw has been making to me off and on for the last 18 months. The letter mentions two of White's male companions in these alleged dinners, and I wish to say that no matter how wealthy they may be or what their standing in the community is, when it comes to the trial of Thaw for killing Stanford White I will be willing to go on the stand and tell of my investigations into the White case when Thaw first made the complaint against him, and we will tell why it was and how it was that we were never able to obtain enough evidence to warrant taking any action against White at the time. As a result of the information in letters which I have received yesterday I shall renew my investigations in the White cases, and in the light of present events I may be able to get some evidence against White's alleged associates which will be useful in the interest of justice." A most important statement in the letter to Comstock is that young girls were brought regularly from the country to serve the purposes of White and other men. One of these girls, the sender of the letter says, was taken to a hotel near Madison Square and placed in a room. The man who had her taken there was one of White's associates, and his name is given in the letter. Costly clothes and underwear were sent to the girl's room from a fashionable store, and later the man himself went to the hotel.

New York, July 3.—Harry Thaw, who last week pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging him with killing Stanford White, was arraigned in court today, in order that his counsel might withdraw the plea temporarily, and submit certain motions, which the defense was not ready to make at the first arraignment. Former Judge Olcott, counsel-in-chief for Thaw, took occasion to make a strong plea for an early trial of his client, who, he said, was suffering greatly from his confinement in the Tombs prison. Judge Olcott told the court that Thaw's health would be seriously jeopardized if he had to remain much longer in prison. Speaking to his counsel, Thaw said that if he had to remain in the Tombs three months longer, he would die. He had previously been told that the District Attorney would not be able to try his case until next October Despite the plea of Thaw's counsel for an early disposition of the case, District Attorney Jerome has reiterated his statement that Thaw must take his turn with the other homicide cases now awaiting trial.

The defense is still making every effort to develop proof that will hold in court that White endeavored to intrude his attentions on Mrs. Thaw after her marriage and that he spoke disparagingly of her. So far no legal proof has been found.

Mrs. Thaw went to Judge Olcott's office late yesterday and underwent another long examination. She denied flatly the report that she had written on Friday and Saturday before the murder to White, and that he failed to reply. The report further said that failing to get a reply from White she visited his studio. She told Judge Olcott that the story was an absolute lie. Mrs. Thaw says that she had never written to White after her marriage, and that she had never seen the architect except at a distance for many months before the murder.

Every search has been made for letters supposed to have been written by Mrs. Thaw after her marriage, but none has been found, the only letters in possession of the defense are those written by White to Evelyn Nesbit before she married Harry Thaw.

These letters are couched in affectionate terms and the defense will endeavor to show that Thaw's jealously was inflamed when he read them. Thaw's counsel have in their possession a remarkable ring worn by White, which was taken from his finger by the coroner. Why the coroner gave it to counsel for Thaw is not known. The defense will try to put the ring in evidence as showing the moral character of White. The ring is a unique specimen of the goldsmith's art. It cost about $2,000. It is of massive gold and bears the figures of three persons, a man and two women. The figures are extremely small, but no less perfect in detail when closely examined.

Former Judge Olcott, counsel in chief for Harry Thaw, decided late this morning to make no motions in the Thaw case at this time, and to let the plea of not guilty made by his client to the indictment charging him with the murder of Stanford White remain on the court record. Until the last moment Judge Olcott had determine to withdraw the plea of not guilty and submit certain motions to the court after which the plea of not guilty would be made again. While Judge Olcott would say little about the case this morning, it is understood that this eleventh-hour decision not to have his client arraigned in court was veiled from the State's prosecutor as a move in the defense is contemplated, but which would become known if the motions were made to the court at this time.

The Globe today says:

Mrs. Thaw flatly denied this morning the statement made by valet Bedford before he died, that the Thaws were not married in Europe, but that the ceremony in Pittsburg was in reality the first one. "I was married to Mr. Thaw while abroad," said Mrs. Thaw, "and before the ceremony took place in this country. When the proper time comes I will produce the proof. All statements to the contrary are untrue. If the valet, Bedford, said we were not married I am very much surprised, but I don't believe he said any such thing."

London, July 3.—The steamer Minneapolis of the Atlantic Transport line, on which Mrs. Mary Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, the murderer of Stanford White, was a passenger, arrived at the Tilbury dock this morning. Mrs. Thaw had heard nothing of her son's predicament of being in a cell to answer to a charge of murder. Capt. Gates of the Minneapolis was informed by wireless telegraph before the vessel landed, but was asked to see that the news was not broken to Mrs. Thaw. The Earl of Yarmouth, Mrs. Thaw's son-in-law, went down the river in a tug to meet the steamer and greet Mrs. Thaw. The Countess of Yarmouth, formerly Alice Thaw, whom Mrs. Thaw crossed the ocean to visit, was not present.

Mrs. Thaw landed at 11:30 o'clock. There was a special guard of policemen present to protect her and no one was allowed to approach her. The Earl of Yarmouth made a special appeal to the newspaper men who were gathered on the dock awaiting Mrs. Thaw's arrival not to tell her what has happened, saying that the shock might prove dangerous.

The Earl told the newspaper men he expected to allow the Countess of Yarmouth, Mrs. Thaw's daughter, to break the sad news to her. He had at first planned to tell her on the train, but changed his mind later. The Earl showed signs of great nervousness in meeting Mrs. Thaw.

Mrs. Thaw and the party accompanying her arrival in London at one o'clock this afternoon, and went at once to a private hotel, where they denied themselves to everyone. In addition to the Earl of Yarmouth, Alexander Blair Thaw met Mrs. Thaw and made the trip to London with her.

Every effort was made to protect Mrs. Thaw from interviewers and to keep the newspapers from learning where she was to stop in London. The Atlantic Transport line officials even went so far as to take the unwarranted and unprecedented action of refusing to allow reporters to return to London on the special boat train, in order that they might not be able to follow Mrs. Thaw and learn her whereabouts. This action was taken at the bidding of the Earl of Yarmouth.

The Earl stated to newspaper men that the question had not yet been decided as to whether Mrs. Thaw will return immediately to New York to be near her son.

Preparation for the Forth.

Oyster Bay N. Y., July 3.—The "summer capital" is making great preparations for the Fourth. All the ancient vehicles of the country side are being cleaned up to be put into service tomorrow for the Jordan Lot, where the "To Do" is to be held and the President is to speak, half a mile or so from the village corners, and if the sun is as warm as it is today, the hack business will be about 50 per cent. more profitable than Standard Oil. The town board has risen to the occasion, by appropriating $250 for the employment of special deputy sheriffs to keep order on the grounds and about he village, and to assist the secret service men in protecting the President from the assault of anarchistic enemies. Each deputy will wear a badge of silk just a little smaller than a Turkish bath towel.

The President will speak extemporaneously from a small grand stand at about 10:30 a. m., and it is announced that other notable orators will take part. Patriotic songs will be rendered by the choir, under the direction of Rev. Warren I. Bowman, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Secretary Loeb said this morning that the President will receive no visitors at Sagamore Hill until after the service. The secretary made a trip to the Hill this afternoon to lay before the President the official and personal papers which had accumulated in the office since last week. They were engaged over the documents in the library for more then two hours.

Missing Steamer.

New York, June 3.—The Fabre line steamer America, now thirteen days overdue from Marseilles, is still missing, no tidings having been received from her. Her agents continue to assert their belief that nothing serious has happened to the America, and that she will eventually reach this or some other port on the north Atlantic safe. Relatives and friends of the 130 passengers on the overdue steamer, however, are becoming anxious for those on board, and are constantly besieging the office of the agents of the line on lower Broadway, momentarily expecting news of the arrival or the sighting of the vessel. The agents claim that even if the engines of the America are disabled she has a considerable spread of convas and can make port comfortably. They are not anxious regarding her safety. The vessel is rigged as a brig. Launched as the Britannia, the America is owned by C. Fabre & Co., of Marseilles. She was built in Liverpool and was launched in 1881. She is 318 feet in length, 40 feet 4 inches in beam, and 23 feet 4 inches deep, and registers 2,645 gross tons Her engine is a two-cylinder compound, and has a horse-power of 327 nominal, propelling a single screw.

Steamers Racing.

New York, July 3.—The first report of the progress of the race between the Hamburg-American flier Deutschland, and the French line's new steamer, La Provence, from New York to the Needles, was received here today. The news was brought by the Red Star Line steamer Kroonland, which arrived from Antwerp. Captain Boxrude said that on June 29 he was in wireless communication with each of the contestants, Captain Kampft, of the Deutschland, said that his vessel was fifty miles ahead of La Provence. Captain Alix, of the Frenchman, however stated that he was gaining on his rival. The Deutschland and La Provence sailed from New York on Thursday last, the former for Plymouth, Cherbourg and Hamburg and the latter for Havre. The Deutschland crossed the bar at 11 a. m., the Frenchman following at 12:11 p. m.

County Assessor Waylaid.

J. W. Coulter, of Leslie S. D., Assessor of Stanley County, relates the following: "I was waylaid by a complication of throat and lung troubles, bronchitis, asthma and a terrible cough, which had affected me for years, when I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. Relief came almost immediately, and in a short time a permanent cure resulted." No other medicine compares with it as a cure and quick cure for coughs and colds. It cures after all other remedies have failed. Every bottle guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons', drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Jamestown Exposition.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, of the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition Commission, this morning prepared plans for the government's participation in the forthcoming Jamestown Exposition. Assistant Secretary of Treasury J. H. Edwards was made secretary of the commission, and Wm. H. Geddes assistant secretary, and upon these two will devolve most of the work.

The commission approved the plan for the granite monument which is to be erected on Jamestown Island where James Smith first landed. Bids for the erection will be call for also. The appointment of a government board consisting of a representative of each department was authorized.

Knox, Taylor, Supervising Architect of the Treasury, was directed to begin immediately the preparation of plans for the six buildings that are to be erected by the governmens. Assistant Secretary Edwards and the Supervising Architect will visit Jamestown this week in order to select the sites for these structures.

The Wreck of the Plymouth Express.

Salisbury, Eng., July 3.—The physicians in attendance upon those who were injured in the wreck of the Plymouth express on Sunday stated today that all were making progress today toward recovery with the exception of Edward W. Sentell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose condition remains unchanged. Mr. Sentell received internal injuries and is the only survivor of his family of five, the others having lost their lives in the disaster. Seven embalmers worked throughout the night on the bodies of those Americans, 23 in number, who were killed in the wreck, preparing them for removal to their homes in the United States. The bodies will be placed in coffins as soon as the lead cases for the coffins arrive.

The Hartje Divorce Case.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—Scornfully denying the charges of improper conduct which has been made against them Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, respondent in the divorce suit brought against her millionaire husband, and Thomas Madine, her coachman, named as the co-respondent, today, were on the witness stand and said that the stories which had been told about them were absolutely false. Mrs. Hartje and Madine each denied all knowledge of the love letters which were read in court yesterday. The great mystery in the case is where did these letters come from. Attorneys for the respondent say they will prove that the letters are forgeries.

Fighting in Natal.

Durban, Natal, July 3.—Following the victory of the Natal troops at Noodsberg on Sunday, when 600 natives were killed in an engagement with the soldiers, three British columns today attacked Mesini's large impi, or band of warriors, in the Mabumlo district. A severe engagement is now in progress. All the Kraals or native villages in the district are in flames.

Old Landmark Destroyed

Washington, N. J, July 3.—The old stone grist mill at New Hampton, the oldest mill in New Jersey, said to be 200 years old, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The mill was owned by the Joseph Fritts estate. During the Revolutionary war, continental soldiers frequently stopped in the mill over night.

New York Stock Market

New York, July 3.—Price movements during the first hour were irregular, but a steadier tone prevailed and where declines occurred they were generally attributed to evening up of contracts over the holiday. At the end of the first hour prices of many stocks showed advances over the lowest range and in some cases fair gains over yesterday's closing figures were scored.

The Fourth of July.

Tomorrow will be observed as a national holiday about on the same lines as in former years. Public and private excursions have been planned and a day's outing is joyfully anticipated by many who will lay aside their daily toil for rides on the river or on trains to rural retreats. The usual number of private excursions have been planned. The day will be a sort of dies non, as most of the stores will be closed. During the day and part of the night firecrackers and fireworks will be prominent features in the celebration of the holiday. It is hoped, however, that all who engage in such pastimes will observe the orders of the Mayor, and refrain from the use of such explosives as are dangerous to themselves or others. The use of all such contrivances is unlawful, but there is no disposition on the part of the authorities to debar the young generation of the pleasure they derive from the use of the smaller size and comparatively harmless fire crackers. The explosion, however, of cannon crackers, guns, pistols, dangerous torpedoes, &c., has, very properly, been prohibited by Mayor Paff, and, it is hoped, the police will see that his orders are obeyed. By such action Alexandria may be spared distressing accidents which so often mar the pleasures of the Fourth of July in other places.

Charles T. Goods, Chief of Police, in a notice in another column, announces that the law forbidding the use of firearms and cannoncrackers will be strictly enforced tomorrow.

The banks will be closed tomorrow, as well as the government and municipal officers. The postoffice will observe Sunday hours. The market, by mutual consent of the hucksters, will close at 9 o'clock a. m.

After Gambling Houses.

As was stated in the Gazette, Commonwealth's Attorney Brent yesterday in the trial of John Ennis, charged with robbing Mr. R. E. Knight's store, and Hugh Strider, charged with receiving stolen goods, brought out the statement from Ennis that a gambling house in which liquor is sold without a license exists in the heart of the business portion of the city. Mr. Brent in a conversation with a representative of the Gazette this morning stated that, should the police department fail to take immediate action in the case, he would as soon as Judge Barley returns to the city apply for a special grand jury in order to have those conducting the place indicted. The action of Mr. Brent will be commended by all law-abiding citizens. The circumstances in connection with Ennis's case show that a passion for gambling leads on to more serious offenses, and joints where such passions are cultivated are baneful to any community. It must not be supposed that the place mentioned by Ennis is the only one in the city. It is believed as firmly as anything else that cannot always be proven before a court that there are other places where young people especially are given their first lessons in the game of change. Occasionally some scarecrow black boys are arraigned for shooting crap where the "pot" amounts to five or ten cents, but the larger birds generally soar out of the clutches of the authorities.

The Ice Famine.

The Washington excursion steamers which get several tons of ice each day had their orders either cut in half or turned down entirely. A day or two ago several of the steamers stopped here and obtained partial supplies, but the ice men in this city are holding on to the supply they have to protect their local trade. A dealer from Washington came to Alexandria and offered the Mutual Ice Company $10 per ton for ten tons per day until the shortage in the ice supply in that city is relieved, but the offer was refused. The Mutual Ice Company stated yesterday in the Gazette that consumers in this city would be furnished with all the ice needed and that, too, at former prices. This brings to mind the attempt on the part of Washingtonians to buy up Alexandria's coal supply several years ago, when the strike produced a coal famine, and the commendable action of Mr. Wm. A. Smoot in refusing the high prices offered for his banks of coal, preferring to sell it to Alexandrians at old prices. Washingtonians are often wont to look upon Alexandria jeeringly, but when they covet anything this city possesses they are by no means slow in making their wants known.

The Apartment House.

A meeting of those interested in the building of an apartment house in this city met last night and heard a report of the committee of five appointed last week to select a site for the proposed building. The committee unanimously reported in favor of a site at the southeast corner of Alfred and Cameron streets, the residence and grounds of Mr. M. B. Harlow. The report was unanimously adopted and further arrangements for the building were discussed.

Baseball.

The Alexandria Athletic Club will play the Arion Athletic Club, of Washington, two games on the old fair grounds tomorrow evening, the first game starting at 2.30 o'clock. These two teams met several weeks ago and played one of the best games seen on the fair grounds for some time, the Arions finally winning in the ninth inning, the score being 3 to 2. Those attending the game will be treated to two good games of ball tomorrow evening.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Anna M. Fadeley took place this morning from the Second Presbyterian Church and was attended by a number of friends and relatives of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Clymer, of Ashburn, and the pallbearers were Messrs. Wm. M Reardon, S. H. Lunt, Jas. Eveleth, A. G. Uhler, Wm. Melchior and Dr. J. H. Bitzer.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Samuel Murray, colored, arrested by Officer Jones charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Edward Arnold, arrested by Officer Knight charged with disorderly conduct in Alexandria county, was held for the county authorities.

Mary Havenner, arrested by Officers Garvey and Beach charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was fined $10.

Sallie Gray, arrested by the same officers charged with similar offenses, was fined $10.

Walter Smith, arrested by Officers Bell and Henderson charged with carrying concealed weapons, was fined $10.

Bessie Redd, colored, arrested by Officers Knight and Nicholson charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Gertie Davis, Sallie Porter, Mollie Simpson and Belphine Simpson, arrested by Officer Lyles charged with improper conduct on the streets, were fined $5 each.

Rose Cooper and Lillian Blair, arrested by the same officer charged with a similar offense, were dismissed.

A Menace to Health.

The attention of the police is urgently directed to a sugar barrel two-thirds full of rotten crabs which is festering in the sun and surrounded by flies on property of the Southern Railway near the eastern end of the Wilkes street tunnel. It is said that the name of the party or parties to whom the crustaceans were consigned was erased from the barrel before it was deposited on the company's property. The Southern Railway Company owns the northern half of Windmill Hill and its possessions extend to the port warden's line. The square leading to Union street is overgrown with jimson weeds and has for a long time been the dumping ground for all the refuse of the neighborhood. Dead animals, garbage and every other offensive substance finds its way to the place. Early last night, while the atmosphere was humid, the slight zephyrs which could be felt were from the southeast, and the effluvium from the decomposing crabs was wafted into houses in the vicinity. It is incumbent upon the police to ascertain who placed them there.

A Correction.

In the report of the proceedings of the Police Court yesterday it was stated that friends of Hugh Strider, charged with receiving stolen goods, offered to furnish bail in any amount on Sunday for his appearance yesterday morning, but that neither the Judge of the Corporation Court nor the Police Justice would consider such an application in the form in which it was presented. Mr. Robinson Moncure is counsel for Strider, and the statement would make it appear that an informal application had been made. Such was not the case, his counsel having proceeded in a correct and legal manner in every particular, as was shown yesterday when Strider was bailed in due form.

A Pleasant Entertainment.

There was happy gathering last night at the residence of Mrs. Julia Nalls, on Alfred street, between Wilkes and Gibbon, the occasion being the annual musicale given by the hostess to the pupils of her music class. An interesting programme had been prepared, which was rendered in a creditable manner by all who participated, and enjoyed by the many who listened to it. The company gathered on the lawn, which had been beautifully and tastefully decorated, and where refreshments were subsequently served. Presents were interchanged between teacher and pupils, the latter receiving medals and Mrs. Nalls a handsome music cabinet.

Run Over by a Wagon.

Jennings, the five-year-old son of Mr. Ernest Craven, was run over by a wagon on King street, near Royal, this morning. People who witnessed the accident picked up the child and carried him into Mr. W. F. Creighton's drug store. It was at first supposed that he had received fatal injuries, but Dr. Jones subsequently examined the child and found that no bones were broken and that his injuries were not as serious as had been at first supposed. He was later taken to his home on north Fairfax street.

Entire Family Killed.

An entire family was killed near Rapidan station Sunday evening when a train struck John Davis, colored, his wife and two children. They were on their way to church in their neighborhood, and in crossing the double tracks of the Southern Railway, were struck by a freight train. They left the passenger track to avoid an on-coming Chesapeake and Ohio train and got in the way of the Southern freight. All were instantly killed.

Pure Water.

The Mutual Ice Company is dispensing Mico water to its many patrons. As is well known, this water is the product of the company's artesian well, and is pronounced by all who use it as the clearest, purest and most satisfactory water in the vicinity. At this season of the year, when pure water is indispensable, Mico is a desideratum.

Miss Lily Alexander, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is visiting Miss Jennye Blondheim, 421 Cameron street.

Miss Sadye Studds, of West End, accompanied by friends from Washington, will leave this evening for Baltimore by water.

A Popular Minister.

One of the most popular ministers in West Baltimore is Rev. E. V. Regester, pastor of Central Methodist Episcopal Church South. His hearty handshake and genial smile make everyone who meets him his warm friend. His great popularity is shown by the fact that during the first year of his ministry at Central the church gained 160 new members, largely through his personal magnetism. Dr. Regester was in his youth a noted athlete.—[Baltimore American.] Mr. Regester has many friends in this city where he was a few years ago pastor of the M. E. Church South.

Alleged Poisoner.

Trenton, N. J., July 3.—The State is beginning to weave its web of evidence tightly about Charles T. Davenport, who is being tried for attempting to kill his twelve-year-old daughter by giving her poisoned candy. This morning evidence was given that he had the life of his daughter insured in two separate companies, and that he has threatened her life. Testimony was also given to the effect that on one occasion, the defendant exhibited a vial and accompanied the exhibition with the statement that "when she gets this it'll fix her." It was shown that Davenport had purchased chocolate candy shortly before the alleged poisoning of his daughter.

Suicide at a Bar.

Philadelphia, July 3.—With half a dozen men looking on, Allen Carmack, son of a well to do merchant, of Brownsville, Pa., near Pittsburg, stood before the bar at Green's Hotel, Eighth and Chestnut streets, this morning, and tossed off a quantity of carbolic acid. Before the startled witnesses of his act could dash the glass from his lips, he had swallowed so much of the fiery liquid that his death resulted two hours later, at the Hahnemann Hospital. Business troubles and an unhappy married life are said to have been the cause of Carmack's suicide.

Henley Races.

Henley, Eng. July 3.—In the second heat in the Fitz Grand rowing cup races today in the annual regatta the Argonaut eight, of Toronto, Canada, beat the Thames Club easily. The first heat rowed yesterday was also captured by the Argonaut eight. They defeated the First Trinity Cambridge, by a sent length after a magnificent race.

Trains Derailed.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 3.—The Saratoga limited, leaving this village at 7:40 a. m. ran off the track seven miles below here, at Ballston Junction. No one was hurt. The switchman at the junction, thinking that the limited was the "scoot" which stops there, turned the wrong switch. Every car is reported off the tracks.

Other Arrests to Follow.

New York, July 3.—Letters found in the apartments of Henry Alford Short, society "swell" and member of the University Club, are likely to lead to the arrest of two other men of equal prominence, who, the police allege, were his accomplices in the ruining of many young girls of respectable parentage.

In Deep Slumber.

A special from Fabers, Nelson county, tells of a mysterious case that is puzzling the physicians of that neighborhood. Twenty-two days ago P. R Bradshaw, a prominent business man of Brunswick, Md., arrived at Fabers and complained of feeling ill. He went at once to bed, and has been asleep ever since, except at short intervals of time, when he takes a little nourishment. The unfortunate man is being constantly attended by several physicians. Mr. C. M. Carpenter, a well-known merchant at Fabers, has a little hope that young Bradshaw will finally be aroused from his deep slumber.

The Philadelphia Record.

The fact that a good thing is never wasted on the public is strikingly illustrated by the increasing popularity of "The Philadelphia Record." True merit is always appreciated if backed by enterprise.

There are older newspapers than "The Record," and papers that have shot upward like skyrockets, with a flash of ephemeral brilliancy, only to come down again like charred sticks. But "The Record" has advanced steadily and irresistably year by year since 28 years ago it set the pace as the pioneer one cent paper of America. Since then it has never retrograded; it has never even stood still, and today its circulation exceeds that of any other newspaper published in the State of Pennsylvania, with an influence that is felt all over the country.

Continued success is never accidental. It is possible to stumble into a hornet's nest, with just about as much chance of winning out in the end. But luck has never entered into the success of "The Record." That success has been due to a keen insight directed toward the public mind, an ability to see at a glance what the public wanted in the way of a newspaper, and then to supply that want. "The Record" has never attempted to force down the public's throat a style of journalism that was inherently distasteful to it.

We congratulate the management of "The Record" on its adherance to these principles that have marked the paper's entire career, as well as upon the excellent business methods that have won the confidence and esteem of its great advertising patronage.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Captain Nathan Appleton, clubman and gentleman of leisure, was granted this morning a decree nisi divorce from his wife, Jeanette M. O. Appleton by Judge Fessenden in Boston on the grounds of desertion.

Dr. Harry Friedenwald, of the Baltimore College of Physicians and Surgens, will, for the third time, be unanimously elected president of the Federation of American Zionists, when the convention elects officers in Tannersville, N. Y., tomorrow.

VIRGINIA. In the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, on the 3rd day of July, 1906.

City Council of Alexandria, which sues, etc., vs. William F. Brookes and Florence P. Brookes, his wife; John Sinclair Brookes and Lucy L. P. Brookes, his wife, and George Dashiell Brookes and Ruth I. Brookes, his wife. In chancery.

Memo. The object of this suit is to subject the following property in the city of Alexandria, Virginia: Beginning at the intersection of the north side of Prince street with the west side of Washington street and running thence west on Prince street 50 feet; thence north parallel to Washington street 100 feet to a 10 feet alley; thence east parallel to Prince street 50 feet to Washington street, and thence south on Washington street to the place of beginning, to the payment of the lien of the City Council of Alexandria thereon for taxes and all other liens.

It appearing by an affidavit filed in this cause that the defendants, John Sinclair Brookes and Lucy L. P. Brookes, his wife; George Dashiell Brookes and Ruth I. Brookes, his wife, are non-residents of this State: It is Ordered, That said defendants appear here within fifteen days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect their interests in this suit, and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, once a week for four successive weeks, and posted at the front door of the Court House of this city.

A Problem In Wizardry.

We want to know why persons who believe in wizards, or, at all events, consult wizards, nearly always prefer to believe in men or women who are of a race inferior to their own or in circumstances which prove that their occult powers are of no use to themselves. The rule is not invariable, for there have been great wizards like Paracelsus, Roger Bacon, Michael Scott and Cagliostro, who were acknowledged by those who consulted or feared them to be in all ways their superiors, but it is seldom broken. In all the letters on country superstitions which we have published the "wise" man or woman has always gypsy blood or some peculiarity of appearance marking out him or her unfavorably from their kind. The wizard of India is usually a naked savage, while those who resort to him are civilized beings clothed carefully in muslin. The reverence of the whites for the black obeah man or woman in the West Indies is the subject of countless naratives, especially in the French islands.—London Spectator.

Solid Emery Wheels.

In the production of solid emery wheels the best cement that can be employed is one that binds the emery together with that degree of strength which will resist the centrifugal strain due to the high speed at which emery wheels cut best—about 5,000 feet speed per minute. It must not soften by frictional heat or glaze or burst or become brittle and break with cold, nor must it hold the cutting grains until they are too dull to cut nor release them so readily as to waste away the wheel too fast. It must be capable of being thoroughly mixed evenly with the grain emery, so that the wheel may not have either hard or soft spots and be out of balance, and must also be capable of being tempered to suit different kinds of metal or work. Great care and skill are required in the matter of selecting only pure and strong chemicals for these cements.—Cassier's Magazine.

Her Method of Darning.

"The worst case of a henpecked man I ever saw," said the traveling man, "is up in my little native place among the Berkshire hills. The hen in this case is a smart woman who runs a farm and keeps everything shipshape except her husband. She is content to let him get along in any old fashion, so long as he does not interfere with her work. One day he asked her apologetically if she wouldn't darn at least one pair of his stockings, for every pair he owned had holes.

"She gave him a crushing glance and said, 'If every pair has holes, wear two pairs, and the good places in one will cover the holes in the other.' And she made him do it too."—New York Press.

Mexico's Fans.

In Mexico fans were used long before the conquest, and when Montezuma heard that the Spaniards had landed and were about to visit him he sent for goldsmiths and lapidaries and ordered, among other gifts which were to be offered to Cortes, two feather fans ornamented with a sun and moon of highly polished gold. Like the Japanese and other ancient nations, the Aztecs evidently considered the fan an emblem of authority, for they generally placed it in the hands of Ometeuctli, god of paradise, and of Totec, the military disciple of Quetzalcohuatl.

Weighing the Anchor.

A young lady, who had no knowledge of nautical phrases, asked a friend, "Do you know, I often wonder why a ship has to weigh its anchor every time it leaves port?" The answer of her friend was not illuminating—"Well—er—the weight is constantly changing, you know, because of the—er—binnacles and things that accumulate on the anchor!"—London News.

His Jubilee.

Judge—Are you aware of any mitigating circumstances in your case? Prisoner—Yes, your honor. This is the fiftieth time I have been here for vagrancy, and I thought that perhaps we might get up a small jubilee.

For Two Pins.

"My wife told me this morning that for two pins she'd kiss me."
"How affectionate!"
"No; merely crafty. She's after two diamond hatpins she saw in a jeweler's window yesterday."

The Resemblance.

"A wild goose has really some reason to be classed in courage with the eagle."
"In what respect?"
"It is sure to die game."—Baltimore American.

Scorn no man's love though of a mean degree. Love is a present for a mighty king. Much less make any man thine enemy.—Herbert.

Got What He Wanted.

Auctioneer—Going! Going! Gone! Here, sir, it's yours. Great bargain, sir. The frame alone is worth the price. Connoisseur (ripping out the picture)—The frame is what I wanted.—New York Weekly.

You cannot find an instance of any man who is permitted to lay out his own time contriving not to have tedious hours.—Johnson.

YOU'RE RIGHT THEN GO AHEAD.
Think well over the question before making banking connections—a wise choice in this particular is of great importance, and we are sure a visit to the office of this corporation will demonstrate to your full satisfaction that this is the place for you to open an account. Every progressive idea consistent with solid and conservative banking methods is eagerly adopted by this institution. We pay 3 PER CENT. interest on savings deposits. Our SAVINGS DEPARTMENT shows a very gratifying and healthy state of affairs. The deposits are exceptionally large for an institution two years old and located in a city of this size, showing that the people are not only living within their income but are forming the habit of saving at least a portion of their salaries every week, month and year. We solicit your account, large or small, and promise liberal treatment consistant with prudent business methods heretofore established by us. If you appreciate first class service you will further your interest by at once becoming identified with this institution.

LEGAL NOTICES.

VIRGINIA.—In the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of Alexandria, on the 21st day of June, 1906.
City Council of Alexandria, which sues, &c., vs. Susan C. Barker, Ella Eugenia Barker, Ada H. Gassoway and William Gassoway, her husband, and the unknown heirs of George Kephart, deceased. In Chancery.
Memo. The object of this suit is to subject the following property in the city of Alexandria, Virginia: Beginning at a point on the north side of Princess street 75 feet east of Water street and running thence east on Princess street 25 feet; thence north parallel with Water (now Lee) street 88 feet; thence west parallel with Princess street 25 feet, and thence south in a straight line 88 feet to the place of beginning, being the same property conveyed to Kephart and Ulam W. Barker by Joseph Cawood by deed bearing date February 1st, 1856, and recorded February 2nd, 1856, in deed book R, No. 3, page 266, to the payment of the lien of the City Council of Alexandria thereon for taxes, and all other liens.
It appearing by an affidavit filed in this cause that the defendants, Susan C. Barker, Ella Eugenia Barker, Ada H. Gassoway and William Gassoway, her husband, are non-residents of this State, and that the names of the heirs of Geo. Kephart, deceased, are unknown: It is Ordered, That said defendants appear here within fifteen days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect their interests in this suit, and that a copy of this order be forthwith inserted in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the city of Alexandria, once a week for four successive weeks, and posted at the front door of the Court House in this city.

NOTICE.—An agreement have been entered into on the 30th day of April, 1906, by and between the heirs and distributees of the late Taylor W. Blunt, of Fairfax county, Virginia, whereby Henry H. Blunt and Charles T. Blunt were appointed trustees to collect any and all moneys due the estate of the said Taylor Blunt, to dispose of the property, real and personal, of the said Taylor W. Blunt, and to pass title to the same; to collect the proceeds of the sale of said property, and to settle the just indebtedness of the said Taylor W. Blunt.
Now, therefore, this is to notify the public that all persons who owe money to said Taylor W. Blunt or his estate must pay the same to the said trustees, and all persons having valid and just claims against said Taylor W. Blunt to present the same to said trustees for settlement, the same to be properly verified, and that the said trustees will sell privately any and all of the said property of said Taylor W. Blunt up to and prior to 19TH DAY OF JULY, 1906, and that on the said day they will expose to public sale all of the property, real and personal, of said Taylor W. Blunt then undisposed of, and, if all of said property is not disposed of on that day the remaining property will be sold on the days following until sold in toto. The property and estate of said Taylor W. Blunt consists of a farm of about 200 acres, lying near Gum Spring, Mt. Vernon magisterial district, Fairfax county, Va; 2 head of horses, several head of cattle, 54 head of sheep and lambs, 33 head of hogs, a lot of fowls, farming implements and utensils, farming machinery, household furniture and goods and sundry articles of personal property, lumber, posts, field of standing grass, field of standing wheat, lot of hay, lot of corn, and numerous other articles used on a large well-managed farm.
The said farm is well fenced and watered and is near the Washington Alexandria & Mt. Vernon Electric Railway. Terms made known on day of sale.
